My Journals (e-Journals)

> My Journals gives you access to full text electronic journals and e-books available to NHS staff, free at the point of use. The list includes e-journals that have been purchased nationally regionally or locally. It also gives details of print journals available in your local health library

My journals can be found under the Journals and Healthcare Databases page of NHS Evidence Content http://www.evidence.nhs.uk/nhs-evidence-content/journals-and-databases (Click on Journals link) or at http://www.library.nhs.uk/booksandjournals/journals .
You will then need to log in with your athens username and password to see all the resources available to you (see Athens Login at top right of page). If you do not log on you will only be able to view the details (not the full text) of nationally purchased electronic journals.

Search Options

- You can search for full text journal titles that are available to you using title keywords in the search box. You can search for a title phrase, for keywords at the start of a journal title or for all title keywords by selecting the appropriate radio button.
- Use the A - Z browse to look for titles beginning with that letter and the 'jump to' option to further refine those results.

- The 'journal look up' form can be used to generate a link to an individual journal, searching by ISSN, where is it available in full text.
